PERSONALISATION

Debossing

Leather debossing is a process that combines tradition, precision and craftsmanship. Brass matrices stamp the leather at a pressure of 100 kg/cm² and a temperature of 130-250 degrees Celsius, creating a three-dimensional effect in the form of a logo or decoration.

Hot-stamping with colour foil

Hot stamping uses thin, coloured foil. Pressure and heat melt the adhesive layer of the foil, which is then permanently applied to the surface of the material. This process can be repeated several times to create different coloured designs.

Thermal transfer

This process involves transferring colour graphics or text onto the surface of the product. First, a special printer prints the design onto a transfer film. The design is then applied to the target surface using a high temperature that affects the pigments on the film. This is a popular method that guarantees the durability and high quality of the coloured decoration.

Our personalisation methods give you a wide range of options for customising your product. We decorate the menu cards of your choice, making them your fashionable accessory and the star on every table in your venue.

Laser engraving

Laser engraving is a modern technique (accurate to 0.01mm) used to decorate traditional materials such as wood, leather, felt or metal. A focused laser beam removes the top layer of the material to create a pattern, like text or graphics. It is a very precise method for the permanent decoration and personalisation of products.

Engraved badge

Decorative panel, made of powder-coated aluminium or brushed stainless steel, with laser-engraved logo. Riveted.

UV print

A technique for printing directly onto objects using ultra-violet light to cure the paint. This process ensures high quality and intensity of colours, as well as durability and abrasion resistance of the branding. UV printing is an excellent choice for frequently used products.

MATERIALS

We carefully select the materials we use to make our products. It is important that they are beautiful, durable and sustainably produced.

The majority of the leather we use is sourced from Polish tanneries, which we know well and visit to see with our own eyes how our future raw material is being made. Other certified materials are imported from the countries of the European Union. Our products comply with REACH.

Wash Paper

WASH PAPER is a modern, eco-friendly material widely used in the fashion and design world. It is a blend of cellulose and silicone that has a leather-like look and feel and exceptional durability. Wash Paper does not dissolve when it comes into contact with water and is waterproof, making it ideal for use in foodservice environments.

Hunter Leather

HUNTER leather is a durable pull-up leather, commonly known as nubuck. Its surface has been polished, soaked in a special oil, and finally coated with a wax that allows the wallet to age beautifully, which creates a natural worn-out and second-hand look.

Saddle Leather

The SADDLE leather is a material processed with plant-based tanning substances. For centuries it has been used to manufacture high-quality, comfortable saddles. It is tanned with vegetable substances and the hot wax in which it is soaked gives it its flexibility. Over time and due to usage, the leather changes - it gets scratched, its colour transforms in the folds, and a rich patina is developed.

Primavera Leather

PRIMAVERA leather, also known as a long-lived one, is a full-grain pull-up leather of the highest quality. It has been soaked with oil, thanks to which the wallet changes its appearance over time. It lightens in its folds and easily scratches, creating a natural vintage look. However, it is possible to restore its original appearance by polishing.

Spectro Recycled Leather

SPECTRO leather is recycled natural leather, which is a blend of milled leather scraps and natural rubber. This guarantees its complete resistance to water and dirt. Products made from SPECTRO leather will perform well in demanding conditions.

Italia Leather

ITALIA leather is a modern half-matte-finish leather. The surface of the leather has been sprayed with a colour aniline dye. Thanks to this the natural structure of the leather is preserved and still visible on the finished product. This is a unique feature of our natural, full-grain leather. Being a semi-veg-tanned leather, Italia leather is exceptionally soft and pleasant to the touch, yet strong and durable. In addition, the leather has been covered with a water-repellent varnish, which makes it resistant to minor stains.

Birch Plywood

BIRCH PLYWOOD is a strong material made by factory glueing thin layers of wood together. It is easy to work with and allows a wide variety of designs to be created. Birch plywood has a naturally warm yet elegant appearance that can be enhanced by varnishing or staining.

Felt

Synthetic FELT is a durable material made from recycled polyester fibres. It is light-weight, soft to the touch and gives a friendly feel to the products. Its flexibility and ease of moulding make it an extremely versatile material.

Bamboo

For centuries, the natural elegance and durability of BAMBOO has fascinated people. Products made from bamboo are a blend of nature's harmony and functionality. It grows extremely fast, making it an easily renewable material. This allows for a responsible approach to production that celebrates nature's gifts while preserving the delicate balance of our environment.

Tyvex

TYVEX is waterproof and lightweight. The polyethylene yarn from which it is made is abrasion and tear-resistant, ensuring the durability of products made from it, such as festival wristbands and numbers for marathon runners. In addition, it can be recycled an unlimited number of times.

Acrylated canvas

ACRYLATED CANVAS is a durable and easy-care material made from acrylic-impregnated cotton fibres. A robust weight of 250g/m² combined with water-repellent properties ensures that products made from canvas will perform and last in the most demanding conditions.

TANGRAM
menu card system

ASSEMBLY

The patented TANGRAM menu card system, developed by LUVA.menu, allows you to customise your menu cards by attaching the printed menu pages to the menu cover using one of the many different methods available. There are two ways of attaching the pages to the menu:

- the basic method, i.e. the elastic band in the middle of the menu cover
- the decorative method, i.e. the metal fittings on the spine of the menu cover.

Both solutions allow you to hold your printed and folded menu pages firmly inside the cover, but also to customise your menu card with different elements.

The TANGRAM menu card system offers different options to suit different menu volumes and requirements.

We have developed the TANGRAM menu card system in order to make it as easy and convenient as possible for you to make changes to your menu.

TANGRAM elastic band

Basic option

The basic version of the TANGRAM menu card system for the Ambiente and Fine Dining Pro lines is an elastic band placed in the fold of the menu cover. This allows you to place your printed and folded menu pages firmly under the elastic band (e.g. A3 sheets folded once for an A4 size menu). The elastic band also serves as the base for any other TANGRAM menu card system solution available:

- brass tube
- slide-in rail
- holder with screws / rosette screws
- holder with latches
- magnet holder
- passe-partout / foil pockets

Each can be easily assembled and disassembled.

TANGRAM fittings

Decorative option

Another, slightly more elegant way of attaching the TANGRAM system is to use the decorative fittings on the back of the menu card. Like the elastic band, they can be used to create a self-contained, stable fastening for sheets of paper by enclosing them inside the card with folded metal strips.

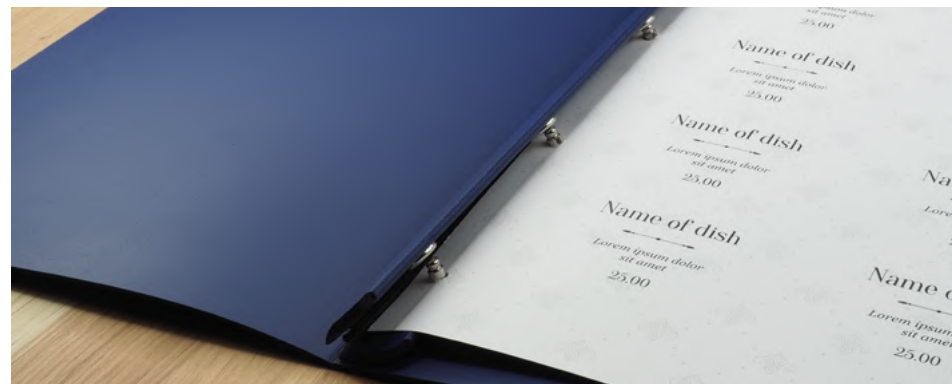

We also use the fittings as a base for the following options for the TANGRAM card mounting system:

- holder with screws / rosette screws
- clip holder
- holder with magnets
- passe-partout / foil pockets

Brass tube

The brass tube is an enhancement to the basic elastic band. Due to its firmness, it supports a larger number of printed and folded menu pages. The metallic gloss of the tube adds an aesthetically pleasing finish to the functionality. This tube with a diameter of 5mm is made of corrosion-resistant brass compliant with European standard EN CW612N.

Holder with snaps

A rail made of the same material as the menu cover. The printed menu cards are fixed with four metal snaps, matching the standard pattern and distance of binder holes. This type of holder can hold up to 20 sheets of 120 g paper.

The slide-in rail

This elastic rail, made of plastic, can hold up to 25 menu sheets of 120 g. We recommend stapling all the menu pages together before sliding them into the rail.

Holder with neodymium magnets

The most flawless and elegant solution of the rail-based TANGRAM menu card system. The rail is made of the same material as the menu cover, reinforced with an extra layer. The printed menu cards are fixed by the strong neodymium magnets placed on both sides of the rail. This solution can hold up to 10 menu sheets of 120 g paper. We recommend stapling all the menu pages together before fixing them into the rail.

Holder with rosette screws

A rail made of the same material as the menu cover. The printed menu cards are fixed with decorative rosette screws made of stainless steel. This type of holder may hold around 30 printed menu sheets of 120 g.

○ fixed with hexagon key

Holder with screws

A rail made of the same material as the menu cover. The printed menu cards are fixed with screws made of stainless steel. This type of holder may hold around 20 printed menu sheets of 120 g.

⊖ fixed with slotted (flat) screwdriver

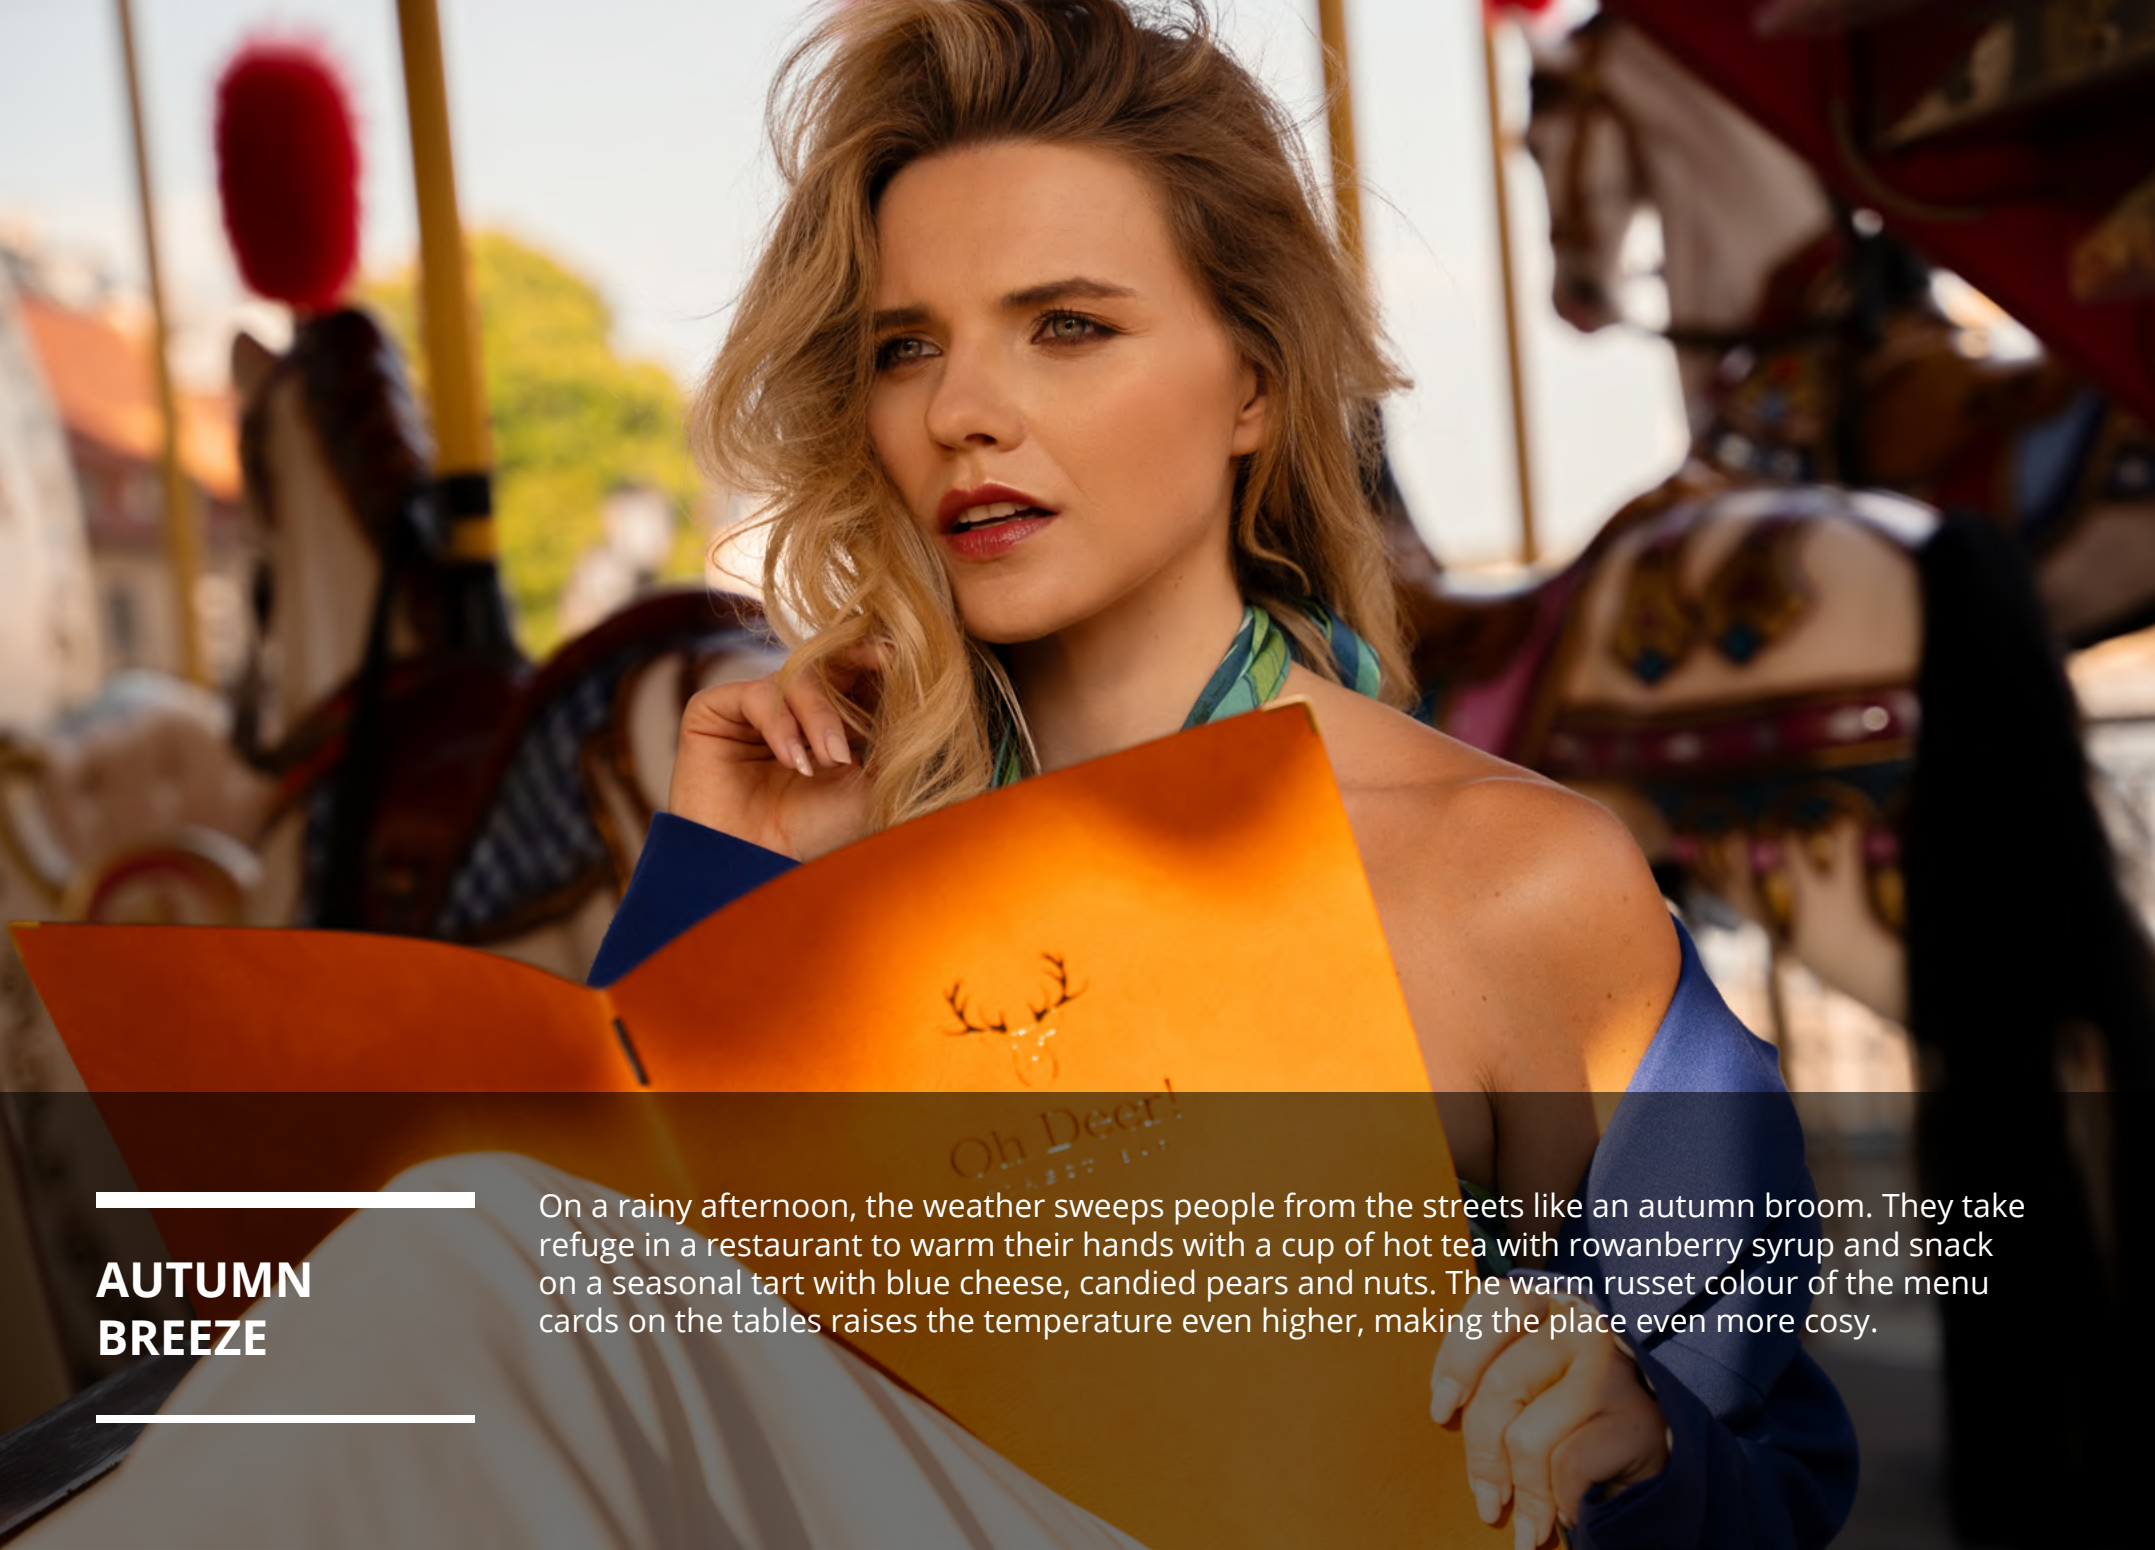

Passe-partout sleeve

The passe-partout sleeves are made of synthetic paper of high quality, available in white or black colour. They give a sophisticated, refined touch to the menu sheets. For the best appearance, we recommend using 3 sleeves (folded in half) for up to 12 pages of the menu.

Foil sleeve

The foil sleeves are made of non-sticky PVC material. They are clear sleeves of high quality, making even the standard office printer printouts look good. Additionally, the sleeves will protect your printed menu pages against dirt and moisture for a long time. One foil sleeve can be used for up to 4 pages of the menu.

AUTUMN BREEZE

On a rainy afternoon, the weather sweeps people from the streets like an autumn broom. They take refuge in a restaurant to warm their hands with a cup of hot tea with rowanberry syrup and snack on a seasonal tart with blue cheese, candied pears and nuts. The warm russet colour of the menu cards on the tables raises the temperature even higher, making the place even more cosy.

SLOW DOWN

It's that moment of the day when tie knots loosen and jackets land on the backs of chairs. Important conversations continue, but the pace is no longer dizzying and the surroundings have changed to a less formal setting. In this warm, loft-like interior with modern touches, the casual charm of black leather is like the cherry on top. The menu cards promise a culinary experience. A glass of Tanqueray Gin. Mussels in white wine, garlic and onion, served with crispy croutons with Gruyere cheese, all scented with thyme and rosemary. Let the meeting continue...

STEEL MAGNOLIAS

In this restaurant, long, muslin curtains separate the interior from the hustle and bustle of the big city. They create a perfect mood for contemplation and relaxation. The tables proudly present a menu dressed in a distinguished grey colour, decorated with a white flower. The walls of the restaurant and the porcelain tableware are white. White is the daikon and almond gazpacho, rice noodles with chicken breast in coconut sauce, and the Eton Mess dessert with meringue and lychee plums. White are the flowers of the magnolias growing outside, the petals of which decorate the lush green of the lawn with every gust of the wind...

IRISH COFFEE

A colour associated with nature, harmony and Ireland. After a long day, we seek refuge in the streets of Dublin, where restaurants hide in mysterious, old townhouses. Black, red and green, brick and wood. Massive but soothing. Dining in this ancient Celtic city, it's impossible not to try the Irish stew of melt-in-the-mouth lamb. Wash it down with a pint of dark Guinness topped with a thick, creamy head. Now finish with coffee, levelled up with a generous splash of whisky. You can go on!

ROYAL BURGUNDY

Maroon, ruby, and purple - noble colours that reign in elegant interiors. They will enhance the romantic style of restaurants in old palaces and castles, where royal guinea fowl, caviar and red wine will make any date even more special. Burgundy can also be used in Scandinavian-style interiors. Wouldn't Kraft beer taste better in an interior associated with Nordic landscapes, amid airy curtains, raw wood and soft burgundy cushions?

RELAXATION LAB

If routine means an evening visit to an inspiring wine bar serving Grand Reserve spirits, or simply a winter tea with homemade cake, then everyone is tempted by such monotony. Returning to places associated with relaxation is not boredom, but a refuge from the stress of everyday life. For those who want to feel special on a frosty evening, such a restaurant in the heart of the city is an excellent choice. Let's go there again!

FEVER OF FLAVOURS

Any venue with a character will benefit from the juicy and energetic colour red. Imagine an atmospheric and vibrant steakhouse offering an exotic burger, T-bone or tomahawk steak, served with a whisky-based sauce and a glass of matching wine. Or how about a place full of red poppies, embroidery, lace and the warmth of an open fire? Just imagine...

BELGIAN CHOCOLATE

A brown with a hint of gold. An original colour deserves an original location. For example, a Belgian chocolate pump room full of master confectioners' work and aromatic coffee. Or perhaps a bar with live music, in an unfinished brickwork building, with a large selection of whisky from around the globe, and a menu of thyme, steak and smoked shrimp. Which inspiration will you choose today?

URBAN SWEETNESS

The synonym for the colour of this collection is certainly not “boring”. What does it bring to mind? How about a fragrant, shabby-chic café in the early hours of the morning? Even if you are late for work, it is the perfect setting for an energetic brunch, a stimulating coffee or a crispy pastry. Or perhaps a sensual and modern restaurant in the city centre, bathed in the setting sun, conjuring up images of cold soup and decadent salmon, preceded by an energetic amuse-bouche? Please, feel invited.

Hidden among the trees of the oasis, Sunset Lodge is soothingly secluded. It offers comfort and relaxation, so awaited after the hardships of traveling through the hot African sands. From the very doorstep, guests can immerse themselves in the warm shades of the lobby decor. Comfortable leather sofas and armchairs as well as woven Persian rugs complete the cozy atmosphere. Through the terraced windows, one can see the mirror of the lake, flickering with amber flashes of the setting sun. CALANDER

Calendering is the process of embossing a large area of Spectro Recycled Leather to give it a new texture or pattern. Any design can be created using this method - for example, a leather pattern, wood grain, floral arabesque or something completely abstract. Depending on the type of calander, the logo can be placed on the intended non-calendered surface of the card or a metal plate. Let's go 3D! Menu cards made of such material will enhance the beauty of your venue and will be an unconventional expression of imagination.

PERSONALISED CALANDER

Calendering is also a great way of designing and creating your own unique materials. Why not feel like a famous designer? For example, we can decorate the surface of the material with your logo, graphic elements that are part of your company's image or a slogan. Let's arrange them symmetrically. Or let's play with the space the material gives us.

What happened here?

The owners of the restaurant, which has a dandelion-shaped logo, wanted the menu card to reflect its airiness and lightness. Therefore, we used elements of the logo itself to create a personalised calander that decorates the entire surface of the card, giving the impression of the seeds of a blower being carried by the wind. Combined with the foil-stamped holographic logo and the white elastic band of the TANGRAM system, we achieved the effect of a graceful, cohesive bespoke menu card.

What happened here?

Taking inspiration from the playful, cartoon-style logo of the eatery, the idea was to offer our customers an experience of the sea. We created a personalised calander in the form of a school of fish in a similar cartoon style. The closer you get to the shark, the fewer the fish... We also subtly „deconstructed” the logo so that the water circles were embossed with a separate matrix. The shark itself was UV printed.

What happened here?

The owners of the bar with the musical, Beatles-esque name wanted the menu cards to be very strawberry, but also avant-garde. We suggested using strawberries from their own logo, in a simplified and oversized form. An asymmetric and eye-catching personalised calander was the result. We placed the UV printed logo at the bottom of the card. The look is completed with a bright red elastic band of the TANGRAM system.

INDIAN SUMMER

The first days of golden September. A warm, lazy evening. The sun goes down, painting the sky with sepia tones. The wind carries the threads of Indian summer, ephemeral and shimmering in the sunlight. In such charming circumstances, it's a pure pleasure to dine while surrounded by the shades of beige. The first forest mushrooms on a quiche taste great, and their earthy colour harmonizes with the tone of the collection. The last rays of light, falling through the window, play with the elegant texture of the leather. Can you see it?

FJORDS OF NORWAY

There are wild, beautiful, and soothing places where time flows at its own pace. Places that leave an unforgettable impression for a lifetime, like the Norwegian fjords. After hours of wandering and enjoying the views, it's great to take a seat in the wood-decorated restaurant and indulge in a well-deserved rest. The subdued, deep green colour and texture of the collection constitute a beautiful background for the currently served steaming Gravlax salmon, and a cup of aromatic, hot Glögg. Skål!

RENAISSANCE ROSE

This setting is worthy of the nobles. It looks phenomenal on an elegant table made of heavy wood, surrounded by chairs upholstered in soft velvet. The smooth glow of glasses filled with essential, semi-sweet wine, emphasizes the royal ornamentation of black leather. The exquisite dinner is complemented by an aromatic roast, richly seasoned with spices, artichokes in wine and garlic, and mini-tarts with figs. The collection will also fit perfectly to a minimalistic interior, where it will play the first fiddle, by adding a classy and graceful finish to an ascetic environment. Ladies and Gentlemen - dinner is served...

OCEAN DRIVE

A cabriolet ride, wide Ocean Drive boulevard, salty breeze from South Beach, blues oozing from the car speakers ... It's time for dinner in the hotel restaurant, where tables are decorated in deep navy blue. The calendered leather is reminiscent of the rippling surface of the water after dark. Tacos garnished with fiery salsa, ropa vieja beef with red onion, and frosty mojito - all these look delicious on a contrasting navy blue background. Delicioso!

PINK BUFFALO

The wide windows of the confectionery are tempting with their blaze of colourful cakes and cookies. They invite passers-by to come inside. How nice it is to be greeted by the syrupy aroma of freshly baked delicacies when you open the door. In a place like this, everyone is a child again. It's hard to choose among so many sweets. Muffins with Mascarpone cream and classic cheesecake look beautifully on the tables dressed in an unusual, pink collection. A brief moment of such a celebration can sweeten the rest of the day. Hmm ... maybe one more piece?

HOLA, MEXICO!

Welcome to the sunny streets of Mexico, where every dish is a celebration of colour and flavour. What could be more colourful than tacos? Take a look at our menu - there are so many options! There are pork "Tacos al Pastor" with pineapple, beef "Tacos de Carne Asada", "Barbacoa" with lamb, peppery "Rajas Poblanas" and even "Tacos de Napales" with cactus bits. For dessert, we recommend churros sprinkled with sugar, as golden as our menu cards. And, of course, a glass of tequila. ¡Salud, dinero y amor!

BANOFFEE

During your stay in the City of Lights - Paris - you will be faced with a bewildering choice of cafés, each more beautiful than the last. But why not try something different? A small Parisian crêperie bows and invites you in. It serves thin crêpes and stacks of pancakes dripping with toppings. The menu seduces with its variety. Pancakes with lemon cream, with ricotta and honey, with brown sugar and melted butter, with peanut butter and blackberries... And the most popular: banoffee pancakes with banana and caramel. Still wondering?

AFTER DARK

An old vineyard, made of stone and wood, surrounded by eucalyptus bush. In its cellars, bulky barrels sleep deeply, next to each other. On the glass roof of the vineyard - a Michelin star restaurant. We are in Swan Valley, Australia. Although it is a hot December evening outside, the air indoors is pleasantly cool. The lights are dimmed, and the menu cards are waiting on the tables for their guests. Ecological leather with an elegant texture emphasizes the uniqueness of this moment. Cheers!

PABLITO ON VACATION

There's hot sand underfoot. On the horizon, the sea gradually merges with the gentle blue colour of the sky. Pablito is on holiday. He swings rhythmically in his hammock, holding a glass of Blue Hawaii cocktail in his hand. It's probably time for him to go to the beach bar under the palm trees. There are many delicacies on their tasty menu. Even from here he can smell the grilled calamari and hear the embers sizzling underneath. The glass is already empty, too.

FOGGY DAY

On a foggy, damp London day, there are few places as pleasant as a warm and cosy coffee shop. The gentle smooth jazz playing in the background blends perfectly with the sound of rain outside the window. The menu sits comfortably in your hand, subtly but persuasively suggesting that you are about to experience a moment of comfort. And it is right - warm scones with cream and marmalade, mini sandwiches and a pot of hot tea make the time pass more peacefully and slowly.

ENCHANTED GARDEN

Evening in the restaurant garden. Ancient linden trees spread their branches over the heads of the guests. The air is sweet with the scent of their blossoms. One can hear the sound of chirping crickets. The deep green colour of the table setting has a soothing effect after a busy day. It blends charmingly into the natural surroundings. Cornish Pastry roast and pudding served on porcelain tableware look delicious on this background. Let's end this evening with a glass of Calvados. Or maybe... let's begin?

CALEDONIA

Haggis, black and white pudding, bacon and sausages, fried mushrooms and thick slices of tomato, beans in gravy, potato pancakes and toast. It's all crammed onto the plates in front of the guests of one of Edinburgh's restaurants. After all, they need the energy to explore the medieval city, visit the castle and climb Arthur's Seat. The colour palette of the Scottish breakfast harmonises with the rust-coloured interior, the colour scheme of the menu cards and the drink - Wee Heavy Scottish Ale. Breakfast looks like a challenge, but it's not just about the food. It is about the experience of sitting down to a meal that is deeply rooted in Scottish tradition and culture.

INK

Bruges is a true pearl of Belgian architecture and should be on every travel and history lover's list. In one of the old townhouses on the banks of the canal, there is a remarkable place. A restaurant with a brewery in the cellars, a reminder of the days when all of Europe was ruled by the crowned heads. The brewers specialise in fruity beers. A list of them can be found on the elegant menu of drinks and beverages, just given to us by the friendly waitress. A cherry beer is tempting. And how about a Flemish goulash to go with it?

SERENITY

An elegant hotel with a sophisticated design requires appropriate decoration. The accessories underline its class and luxurious style, and delight the guests. Whether they are a young couple, tourists exploring the area, or perhaps a writer recovering from a temporary lack of inspiration by resting in an exclusive location. Each of these people will stop to admire the exquisite accessories in their room. The warm glow of the canvas will leave no one indifferent. Because it is the details that count.

OLD-FASHIONED

We're in a place where the term „old school” is a compliment. It's an old English whisky club. The furniture is heavy and we sink into the sumptuous, comfortable armchairs. The tables and the classic, simple menu cards on them are lit by office lamps with green shades. Whisky tasting is on the agenda for tonight, and to ensure the experience is not interrupted, the traditional dinner has been replaced by a platter of cheeses, sausages, and bread. Here comes the waiter. First stop - Northern Ireland.

ART NOUVEAU

Isn't it exciting - to walk slowly down the ancient, trampled stairs to the basement restaurant in an old tenement house? The cheerful fire on the fireplace, with its brilliance and crackling, breaks the gentle coolness and natural twilight of the old room. Flowery curtains and heavy-frame paintings adorn the brick walls, evoking the historical spirit of this place. Once, poets and painters used to come here. Today, the menu dressed in canvas refers to the tradition of bygone bohemia, offering a creamy leek and potato soup, Coq au Vin stew, and almost forgotten Ambrosia dessert. Most probably the muses (and the green fairies of Absinthe) still live here ...

COSTA TROPICAL

A collection of menu cards that shimmer like the ocean on a sunny day. Doesn't it make you think of an elegant restaurant far away? Maybe in the Canary Islands? In such a menu, in addition to the famous „Papas Arrugadas con Mojos“ (very salty potatoes served with sauces) or the „Conejo en Salmorejo“ (rabbit in Canarian marinade), you cannot miss the fish and seafood that the Atlantic waters surrounding the archipelago are so rich in. You can forget everything for a while and enjoy the atmosphere of the Canary Islands' eternal spring.

GOLDEN HOUR

At this magical time of the day, the sunlight softly envelops the interior of a small, old café in Bloomsbury, London. Tables, tucked between exotic plants, allow guests to take refuge in the cosy atmosphere of the orangery. The warm aroma of freshly brewed tea wafts from the teapots. The stacked platters smile at guests with sweet cakes, muffins and pralines. It's warm and golden, and the menu cards sparkle with glitter, reflecting the glow. They add a touch of magic to the interior and this pleasant twilight moment in the big city. May this golden hour last...

GARAM MASALA

Sometimes you don't need to travel to taste the cuisine of distant lands. Sometimes a chic and elegant menu card in the colour of exotic spices is enough to signal the arrival of authentic cuisine. In this Indian restaurant, the walls are decorated with hand-painted mandalas, but the furniture is kept in a simple, modern style. The dishes are also a refreshing combination of traditional food served in a minimalistic way. The vegetable-stuffed samosa dumplings with mint sauce, the coconut Madras chicken curry and the cumin-scented Dal Panchmel with five lentils look so vibrant on white, vast plates. The richness of flavours and aromas is not distracted by anything. Let's not disturb the guests, they're far away now...

PILLOW TALK

Slowly, gently. Let's take a moment to touch this menu card. Soft as a pillow, it has an almost therapeutic effect - calming and relaxing. It is perfect for an after-dinner nap-style café. Sofas, pouffes, cushions, hot herbal tea and a fluffy apple tart. Let's have a little lazy time together...

DECORATIVE PRINT

If your imagination knows no bounds and you like to stand out, we can decorate your menu cards with a printed design of your choice. Thermal transfer and UV printing are available. Or why not choose one of the pre-designed prints from our range? Cards decorated in this way are original, and unusual and will surprise your guests.

COCOA PUFF

After a couple of hours of walking around a somewhat windy Copenhagen, the urge for a boost of energy finally arrives. We stop at a secluded café to relax and recharge our batteries. The menu card offers snacks and sweets, so let's start with smørrebrød, Denmark's famous sandwiches. We choose Stjernesked with prawns, asparagus, lemon and dill. And for dessert - a speciality of this café. Sweet puffs of chocolate cake filled with cocoa whipped cream and sprinkled with a velvety cocoa carpet...

QUANTUM

A restaurant of unconventional culinary experiences, where the chef pushes the boundaries of his guests' senses. Inside - a collection of menu cards that is the essence of minimalist elegance and modern design. It fits perfectly into the aesthetic of a molecular gastronomy restaurant. Simple, geometric shapes and delicate, precise details reflect a modern approach to the culinary arts. After all, aren't dishes such as gazpacho soup in the form of beans, prawns smoked in smoke-filled balls or exclusive wines served with a smoke effect pure modernism?

CANADIAN BACKWOODS

Aromatic coffee and a hot breakfast will wake everyone up and give them a boost of energy, especially when there's a frosty morning outside. Ecological materials, omnipresent in the hotel restaurant, are a natural extension of the untouched nature of the maple leaf country. Wood and Wash Paper emphasize the close-to-nature character of the place. The guests dine before setting off on the trail, where they will savour the sight of snow-capped peaks, wild forests, and glacier tongues. But first, let them finish poutine rapee and fluffy pancakes with blueberries and maple syrup. Let's go!

THE SPIRIT OF PROVANCE

Two different materials, but one association - the warmth of the Provencal climate. Allured by the fragrance of herbs, wildflowers and lavender, allow yourself to be seduced by a dinner of Mediterranean flavours. Figs, almonds, sheep's and goat's cheese as a starter, followed by seafood or a Nice salad, served in the presence of a sommelier who will recommend the best wines to accompany the meal. A masterpiece of gastronomic art and a journey in one.

OAKEN SMOKE

Fragrances have magical powers. They take us back into the past, put us in a blissful mood, or whet our appetite for something delicious. Imagine the balsamic scent of wood. The smoke of a bonfire, which smells like adventure. Imagine the earthy aroma of potatoes baked in ash. They take you somewhere else right away... Maybe to this wooden restaurant, where the wood-burning stove and hot, sizzling grill evoke cosy memories of its guests? Where warm to the touch felt table setting encourages a happy feast. Rib-eye steaks, barbecue ribs in a sticky honey sauce, roasted vegetables with herb butter, and grilled goat cheese - everything smells so good! And fragrances have magical powers...

SWEDISH TABLE

In Sweden, fika is a celebrated moment of respite from the hustle and bustle of everyday life. A few moments of unhurried enjoyment over a cup of coffee, inevitably accompanied by fikabröd pastries. What are you in the mood for today? Kanelbullar (cinnamon buns)? Saffron Lussekatter buns? Or the Semla cakes filled with almond paste and whipped cream? Either way, each of these delicacies will look charming and rustic against the organic light birch wood collection. Just as in Scandinavia.

CRIMSON HAZE

It's refreshing and inspiring to reinvent something. Wood - but blood red. Traditional black pudding sausage - but surprisingly modern. Served in a restaurant as bright as a greenhouse, it is the aromatic star of its own show - accompanied by garlic croutons, grilled apricots and a horseradish sauce. A glass of blackcurrant wine goes with it wonderfully. I won't bother you again. Just enjoy!

OKTOBERFEST

A collection that will take you back to the days of old beer halls and traditional taverns. The combination of precious wood and metal hinges makes the menu card look like a chest full of treasures. And there is no shortage of gold in this restaurant! The golden beer flows in rivers, for despite the October pestilence, the celebration of Oktoberfest is on. The menu is full of German classics: roast wurst, Knödel dumplings in meat sauce, pork knuckle with sauerkraut, pretzels and crispy potato Rösti. The festival beer - sweet Märzen and light Festbier - is bubbling in the pints. Come and join in! There's still room on the benches. Prost!

DELICATESSEN

We have just crossed the threshold of a restaurant inspired by a New York deli. And since it's a deli, there's pastrami, salami, a variety of juicy sausages and smoked fish. Thick slices of pastrami, glistening with the fragrant maple-smoked fat are piled high between firm slices of sourdough bread. They go great with pickles and spicy mustard. Or how about bagels with salmon or marinated herring? Whatever you try, you'll be back for more of this fun New York menu.

GOSAN- CHIKU

As a slender grass, bamboo is, by definition, a minimalist material. So is this collection. It provides a subtle and natural backdrop for the characterful, vibrant accessories of the restaurant's interior and the range of hues of the food served there. The warm tone of bamboo works well with the green of wakame salad, the black of nori seaweed and the alarming red of spicy chilli. Grab your chopsticks!
